

Hello,

I am Adam, an assistant software made-to-order for every customer. I work independently with no need of help. I work exactly as you want me to, day and night. I do not need a vacation or medical leave, I work 24/7/365. I do not make mistakes, I think and evaluate independently and help my colleagues with their work. And for my operation you do not really need anything more than your mobile phone ...

How does it work?

Using the individual modules, I connect a set of hardware devices with one well-arranged application accessible via the Internet from a computer, tablet or smartphone. I automate, streamline and secure saved documents for you. I have been developed to provide a solution for all workplaces, including remote ones, without the need for on-site crew and electrical connections.

You will simply communicate with me and cooperate with access through defined levels for individual users. You can manage all workplaces worldwide from one location and grant entrances; give authority, open gates, and much more. I am flexible enough to build your app based on the number of employees, workplaces, warehouses, and many other aspects that your business involves.

I record events from all workplaces and communicate them to defined subscribers. I do not suffocate you with data, but I have it available for you anytime. I record it in the system and store it in the individual modules concerned. I actively notify selected users, who have subscribed or who have been given access by their superiors, about selected events.

Together with the modules that I constitute of, the CH System will also supply you with all the necessary hardware.

I am a software called Adam and I greatly help employees and company management to achieve common goals. Where all available systems end, I am just getting started.

I am Adam - an assistant software made-to-order for every customer.

We will connect all your workplaces worldwide into one unit

Your work will get a whole new dimension, and you will decide what specific information you want to receive. You will be able to have a continuous overview of all the events at the workplace as well as be able to influence them 24/7/365 from one location.
